

Utah's Public Transportation Sector, 2018

In 2018, domestic and international travelers and tourists spent money on public transportation, including air, shuttle, taxi, rideshare, train, bus, and mass transit fares. U.S. Travel Association reported Utah's share of this total public transportation spending—or the amount that stayed in Utah—at $1.83 billion. The Gardner Institute estimates that the majority of public transportation spending took place along the Wasatch Front—specifically in Salt Lake County—based on the number of private transportation jobs in each county. As the home of the Salt Lake City International Airport, Salt Lake County is the state's largest transportation hub. Here is a look at 2018 public transportation-related employment for the state, all four Wasatch Front counties, and the rest of the state:
